Dear Sir/Madam:

Prescribing or recommending herbal supplement has never been my mode of medical management for my patients until a tremendous improvement has been seen to my 95 year old grandfather suffering from recurrent bouts of respiratory infections that changed my modality. Previously, numerous antibiotics and immune enhancing medications were given to my grandfather for relief of his recurrent ailments but to no avail until I started giving Ecarma ImmunElixir Plus where I noted resolution of thick phlegm, cough, dyspnea and low grade fever. Giving ImmunElixir Plus capsule and tea has significant beneficial effect on his health condition especially with his frail condition. He was able to return to his usual daily activities in the farm.

Since it was introduced to me for more than two years, I always augment Immun Elixir Plus to other prescriptions for my patients and significant improvement has been noted.

I highly recommend a significant number of patients be chosen for a clinical study for this alternative mode of medical management so that we can determine its claim of therapeutic value and let fellow physicians realized its potential. ImmunElixir Plus is safe to use even for sensitive patients.

I also have numerous patients claiming to improve their resistance from common colds and other infectius diseases (recurrent urinary tract infections, etc.).

I can assure the public of its safe and significant immune-enhancing capability to those partially immunocompromised, even fully immunocompromised, and improve their health condition.

Sincerely yours,

LARE E. ALMAZAN, M.D. R.N.
