To whom it may concern:

I have been prescribing Ecarma Herbal ImmunElixir Plus capsule for my patients who suffers from infectious diseases for quite some time. These diseases ranges from respiratory, viral and bacterial infections. Even dermatological cases have been encountered. Acute respiratory infections (viral/bacterial) have been managed by giving one capsule to be taken after each meal 3 times a day for 5-7 days resulted to alleviation of their conditions. Cases like eczema (“skin asthma”) were treated likewise with their lesions drying up.

It is my belief that certain iso-flavanoids contained and identified with this herbal supplement can boost the immune system. Thus giving the body the ability to combat infections coupled with the proper diet and enough rest. As maintenance, one capsule daily taken after a meal is encouraged for the prevention of such maladies.

Very truly yours,
